Dear Madam,

with deepest concern we have received a news about the Ukrainian state being assaulted by the Russian Federation armed forces on February 24, 2022.

The information of the bombing raids and assaults in Kiev has left us greatly saddened as we greatly value our cooperation with the citizens of Kiev, especially our partners from Analytical and Consulting Centre for Public Governance and Law. We condemn any acts of violence committed against civilian people and we are grieving for the victims of the missile attacks, bombing raids and assaults.

We are observing with compassion the course of events in the Ukraine and Ukrainian nation's heroic fight with the aggression. Please be assured of our willingness to provide support not only in the present situation, but also when the crossfires will cease, as we strongly believe the peace will come to the Ukraine soon. If any help is needed, not only in the area of public administration management or support of our experts, please do not hesitate to ask us.

We are with you in those difficult and challenging time that Ukrainian nation is facing now, and we sincerely hope that Ukraine will overcome all the hardships of this crisis to become stronger than before.

Kind regards,

Wojciech Federczyk PhD
